Previous VW Nationals. Here is an archive of reports of previous VW Nationals, taken from the pages of our club magazine Zeitschrift. The first VW Nationals was held in 1988 (as part of the Australian bicentennial). A staple of any crime drama, the "Enhance" button on the computer is able to turn a tiny, blurred, grainy image in a photo or video into a clear, unmistakable piece of evidence. This process is virtually instantaneous unless added dramatic tension is required (in which case extra Techno Babble...A Comedy Tropes, also commonly used for ship teasing. One character, most usually a man, asks another, most usually a woman, to take off her clothes (or maybe just one particular item of clothing). Threshold Technologies aims to bring the most advanced means of sucking the viewer into their entertainment. Unlike VR and 3D technologies, they use subliminal techniques to create the illusion of total submersion.
