Cotton candy is a light and fluffy sugar confectionery which resembles cotton wool. It is made by melting a sugar composition and spinning it into fine strands. Cotton thread is produced from large cotton bales that are cleaned, combed, carded, twisted, and spun. Polyester thread is derived from petroleum that has gone through a cracking process. A doffer is someone who removes ("doffs") bobbins, pirns or spindles holding spun fiber such as cotton or wool from a spinning frame and replaces them with empty ones. Textile arts are arts and crafts that use plant, animal, or synthetic fibers to construct practical or decorative objects. Textiles have been a fundamental part of human life since the beginning of civilization., Cotton Spinning Manufacture Including Characteristics.
