By Fiona Buchanan, PhD, BSW Lecturer School of Psychology, Social Work and Social Policy University of South Australia . Author Note. The author acknowledges the contributions of Professor Fiona Verity and Associate Professor Charmaine Power, Flinders University during early discussions of concepts described in this manuscript. Domestic violence (also named domestic abuse or family violence) is violence or other abuse by one person against another in a domestic setting, such as in marriage or cohabitation. Domestic violence may include verbal, emotional, economic, physical and sexual abuse. All forms of domestic abuse have one purpose: to gain and maintain control over the victim.
