Korokke (Japanese Croquette) is by far my favorite food that my mom makes. Every time I go back to my home in Japan, or when my mom visits us, I always request her to cook Korokke for me. Ingredients . 2 cups (dry) oatmeal (I used gluten-free thick cut oats) 1 and 1/3 cups coconut flakes (Let's Do Organic is my favorite brand!) My husband's grandmother Eva was an avid canner. One of the family favorites was her famous "Mustard Pickle." It was a staple at the Sunday afternoon dinner table, where it was always served with a pot roast or ham. When it comes to summertime get-togethers, there are some absolute essentials you're going to want--like our Backyard Bean Bake!, Favorite Brand Name Bake Cookbook.
