I know of an incident where a low-cost airline cancelled a flight, even though it was full. They paid for everyone to be transferred to another flight in another airport the following day, a free meal, an overnight stay, taxi to get them there. I know the truth behind the delay as the captain and the flight crew told us. I'm trying to find where the flight particulars are documented. If anyone else has any information on this flight let me know? I'm self-employed and I lost two days pay.
